Welcome to Boomi Training

Overview

This guide will help you prepare for the Boomi portion of your course. The guide will outline everything you need to:

- Access Boomi Training and the Boomi Platform
- Complete the required coursework

If you experience any issues or have questions, please reach out directly to our team at training@boomi.com.

Getting Started

To participate in Boomi Training, you will need access to:

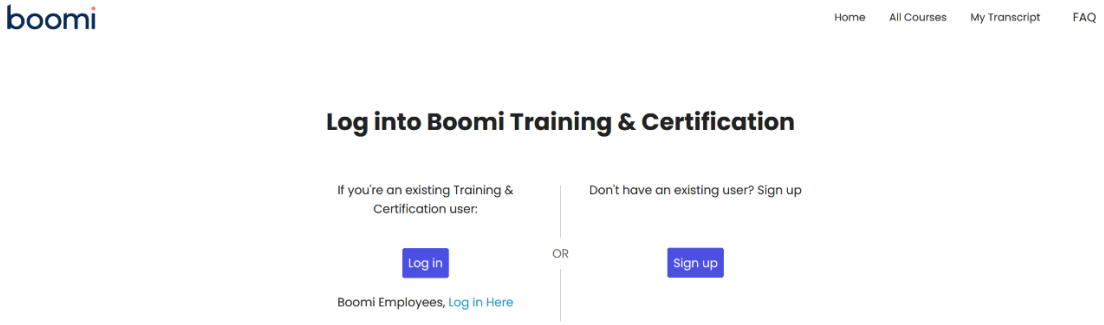

- Boomi Training (train.boomi.com): where our training content and certifications are located.
- Boomi Enterprise Platform (platform.boomi.com): where you will get hands-on experience working with Boomi during your training.

> Note: You should be able to use the same Boomi username and password to access both Boomi Training and the Boomi Enterprise Platform.

Access Boomi Training

Go to train.boomi.com.

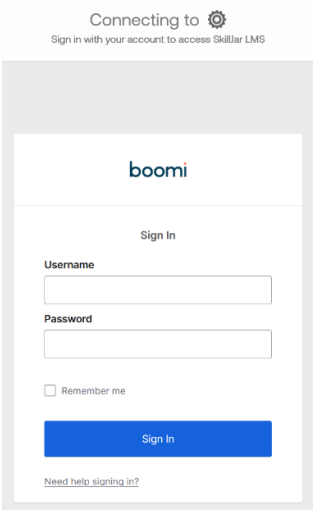

1. New Training Users: Sign up for access to Boomi Training
    a. Select the Sign Up button under “Don't have an existing user? Sign up”
    b. Use your primary Cornell email and fill in all required fields. Click “Sign Up”.

    c. Check your inbox for a Welcome email from 'noreply-training@boomi.com'.
    d. Follow the emailed instructions for completing and activating your Training user.
    e. Go to Step #3 below and follow the instructions to enroll in Integration Essentials.

> Note: Within 10-15 minutes after you enroll in your first course you will automatically be provisioned a Platform training account for use with our training.

2. Existing Training Users: confirm access to training resources
    a. Select the "Log in" button under "If you're an existing Training & Certification user"

    b. Enter your Boomi credentials (email and password)
    c. Log in from platform.boomi.com and confirm access to your Platform training account (see #4 below).

Register for Integration Essentials

3. Complete the required training course - Integration Essentials:
    a. Log in to Boomi Training.
    b. From the top of the home page, select All courses and type "Essentials" in the Search field. Select and register for Integration Essentials. If you are new to Boomi, we would also highly recommend the "Getting Started with the Boomi Platform" course (20-30 minutes) as an introduction to the Boomi Enterprise Platform.

    c. Complete the video content AND the hands-on activities using the Platform training account provided to you.

Access Platform training account

Go to the Boomi Enterprise Platform (platform.boomi.com).

4. Log into your Platform training account by using your Boomi credentials (email username & password). The training account name will be in the format Training-FirstName-LastName.
    a. If you do not see your training account upon logging in, use Switch Accounts (click on the drop-down arrow next to your Account Name at the top) and select Search.
    b. If you cannot locate your training account using Switch Accounts, this may be due to the use of SSO logins. If your organization uses SSO logins, you can access your Platform training account by following the first option in this Boomi Community article regarding SSO and Training Account Access.
